PAY RAISE MAY HALT BIG MILL STRIKE

Increase of 10 Per Cent. Predicted as 15,000 in New Bedford Quit Places

The menace of a general strike, which would paralyze the textile industry of New England, was somewhat removed today by the following developments:

1—President William M. Wood of the American Woolen Company declared that his mills would shut down rather than submit to the new wage demands.

2—A general increase in wages of 10 per cent. in all the woolen mills of New England was predicted to take effect shortly.

3—The State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration offered its services as arbitrators of the differences at New Bedford, where 15,000 cotton mill workers are said to be on strike.

4—New Bedford manufacturers met today in an attempt to prevent a walkout in the remaining thirty-five of the thirty-seven mills in which a strike was ordered.

Mr. Wood's statement was issued in denial of a story published by a New York paper, in which a representative of a large woolen company, in an interview at Providence, was quoted as saying:

COOLIDGE NAMES THREE MORE GUARD OFFICERS

Governor Coolidge today appointed three more officers of the new Massachusetts National Guard: William C. G. Perkins of Malden, as captain, 101st Field Signal Battalion; Cyrus H. Stewart, Boston, as captain, 102nd Field Signal Battalion; and James A. Crowell, Boston, first lieutenant, First Coast Defense.

2,000 Protest Taking of Island as General Pershing Visits Capital

By International News Service.

Panama, May 3.—An anti-American demonstration was staged in the streets of Panama last night and marked a reception given to General John J. Pershing at the Union Club.

The underlying cause for the outbreak was growing resentment against the American occupation of the island of Panama, which lies just off the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal, for the purpose of fortification.

The demonstration had its appearance of being well organized. The marchers met and proceeded to the Union Club at 11 o'clock, where a brilliant reception by the American commander-in-chief was to be held.

No great war was the result and confusion about the city since the General Pershing's visit of any of the Panamanians was prevented from entering the city.

Shoots Innocent Man for Stealing $100

Antonio Sponara, thirty-five years old, his memory clouded by fumes of wine, fired five shots at Dominick Iorio, fifty-five years old, who he charged with stealing his wallet containing $100, and then discovered the pocketbook in his stocking, according to testimony in the East Boston Court today.

Sponara, who lives in the rear of Frankfort street, East Boston, was held in $5,000 for a continued hearing on May 11, charged with assault with intent to murder. The victim was taken to the East Boston Relief Hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in the face.

According to the police report, who lives on Frankfort street, was host to a party of friends, who participated in a card game, enticed by much wine. Sponara placed his wallet in his stocking at the beginning of the game, and when he missed it from its accustomed place, forgot where he put it.

Boy Kills Father to Save Mother's Life

Chicago, May 3.—In order to save the life of his mother, Guy Marston, 17 years old, shot and killed his father today as the latter started to attack her with a razor.

Up to about a year ago, the father, Antonio Marston, had been known as a model parent and husband. Suddenly changing his ways, he quit his job and left the burden of supporting the mother and five brothers and sisters on Guy.

The father's anger was aroused when he learned that Guy had bought his mother a new typewriter.

FEARED FOR LIFE OF SON

Mrs. Eklund Says She Had Premonition of Harm to Slain Chauffeur

Taunton, May 3.—Search for the slayers of Oliver Eklund was resumed with high hopes of success today, following the finding of the body of the young Providence chauffeur in a pool of muddy water near the Taunton fair grounds.

"You ought to be careful, son, something might happen," was the warning Mrs. Eklund gave her son at 4 o'clock on the evening of the fatal night. She stated that she had a premonition that harm would come to him.

But the son reassured her that there was no danger, saying, "Oh, it will be all right, mother. They are two fine, nice-speaking young men, and I know they wouldn't hurt anyone."

However, she adhered to her belief.

'Eklund Too Good to Live,' Says Fiancee

Providence, May 3.—"There'll never be another like him. He was too good to live."

In these words, Mrs. Caroline Eklund, mother of the murdered Providence taxi driver, whose body was recovered Sunday night after a week's search, and Miss Violet Farley, sweetheart of Eklund, characterized the young man whom they both loved so dearly.

At the Farley home, No. 29 Chapman street, Miss Farley told of her week's vigil and her week's hope, from the Monday morning when it was found that Eklund had been

The clothes, it is understood, were made for Britishers.

FLEET RUSHED TO MEXICAN COAST

SEVERAL KILLED

Washington, May 3.—A squadron of fast destroyers and tender ships was ordered to the East coast of Mexico today to protect American citizens whose lives are in danger as a result of the spread of the revolution.

The predicament of some of these American nationals was described as desperate in the State Department's formal request for the ships.

Other developments in the critical situation across the Rio Grande were:

1—Mrs. Francis Greenleaf and son, American citizens, murdered by bandits at Pailan, 125 miles from Mexico City.

2—Nichols take new position, cut here out of Vera Cruz, and begin a movement to encircle Mexico City.

3—Washington gives permission to thirty-five American officers to pass through Arizona and New Mexico to get back to their posts in the Federal army.

4—General (comrade) president of the American Federation of Labor, reported preparing to an appeal to the laborers of Mexico to avoid civil war.

The squadron which is to be dispatched to the east coast will, it is stated, consist of six destroyers and sufficient tender ships to remove those Americans who wish to leave the distressed country.

The squadron is expected to proceed to Vera Cruz and Tampico, where the largest number of American is concentrated.

General Manuel Gonzalez, a Federal commander in the vicinity of Mexico City, had been defeated at Texcoco, near Mexico City, by a force of rebels coming up from the state of Morelos to take part in the siege of the capital, according to advice received today at headquarters of the Sonora revolutionists.

General Jose Cordero, Carrancista commander in the State of Puebla, has declared for the Sonora revolt, according to other advice from the same source. Much significance is attached to this report as Puebla has hitherto been regarded as loyal to Carranza.

PROTESTS NEW STOCK

The city of Boston today protested to the Department of Public Utilities against the petition of the East Boston Gas Company to issue $425,000 of new capital stock.

John F. Lyons, president of the city, pointed out that the company was authorized last year to issue $100,000, but did not find it necessary to issue new stock. There has been no reason since that time why stock should be issued, he said.

BOMB INFORMER IN DEATH LEAP

Antonio Tazio, an Anarchist, Plunges Fourteen Stories in New York City

By International News Service.

New York, May 3.—Antonio Tazio, held by Federal agents in connection with the bomb plots of last June, with his guards today and jumped through a window in the fourteenth floor of the Park Row Building to his death in the street. The jumper was clad only in his underwear.

Tazio had confessed to a part in the bomb outrages of last summer, according to William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice. He was sentenced to a term of ten years in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

The bomb explosion of last summer were a part of an organized plot and occurred in Washington, New York, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Paterson and Boston.

Tazio also was known as a saboteur, and the authorities believed the latter to be his real name.

By the suicide it became known today that the government's agents had made considerable progress toward solving the mystery surrounding the bomb explosion of last summer.

Tazio, or Toledo, as he was called by Federal agents to have admitted that he was the author of the explosion. They said he had also given much valuable information concerning others who were connected with the outrages.

N. C. Tonato, the prisoner's attorney, admitted today that Tazio was an anarchist, but declared his client had had no part in the plot.

According to the guards, Tazio requested permission to get a glass of water about dawn.

When the guard turned away, Tazio dashed to the window and plunged out.

Providence Taxicab Drivers Take Up Watch for Slain Providence Man's Assailants.

State and municipal police were confident that with the additional evidence secured in the last few hours, an arrest in the baffling case would be made within a few days. Marks found on the slain man's body will play a big part in further investigation.

Indignation ran high in Providence when word came that the young man's friends were confirmed. Taxicab drivers were reported watching for suspects and planning to take the law into their own hands in case of an arrest. It is doubtful if anybody approached in connection with the case will be taken through Elkund's home city, with feeling at its present pitch.

A member of the gang which killed the man was being sought today in connection with the crime. Two of this man's friends have been in the custody of the Boston police. They were seen in a local lunchroom the morning the abandoned car was found, with blood stains on their clothing. Per-

Miss Violet Farley Confident That Slain Sweetheart Died Fighting

She told the details of her week's waiting. "I have felt, always, that maybe I might find him alive. I have taken my father's automobile and gone by myself or with friends, to Dorchester and Milton and Northampton and every spot along the road, where he has been, every day last week, and always I have thought maybe I can find him alive."

"For when somebody you love as your own life is at last proved dead always you think, if things had been a little different the one you loved might be living now. That is what I think. You know the Sunday night he was killed he came to my house and I was not in. My mother told him I had stepped out. Oh, she always goes, he said. You see, whenever he took long trips to Taunton, or to Pawtucket, or to Boston, he always came for me."

"I was with him. For we were pals, and companions as well as engaged people."

"HE WAS GONE."

"To my mother he said, when he found I was gone. 'I'm off to Taunton and will be back in thirty-five minutes.' Then he left. I have always thought all this last, dreadful week of suspense, that if I had gone with him he would never have been murdered. For he was same, and I knew—'who knows him as well as anybody. Having—because he was no name."

"DANGER BY WOOD."

The American Woollen Company has never looked out any of its employees during the thirty years that I have been connected with it," said Mr. Wood, "and it has an intention of doing so in the future."

"I hope you will believe me," Harvey said to officers, who have been searching in vain for the grave in a desolate portion of Eastern San Diego County. "If I were stronger I could go to the place with my gun."

Harvey then told the officers of three trips to the grave, made after he killed the woman with a hammer on the first day of their honeymoon trip, according to an alleged confession made last Thursday night.

The first, he said, was to bury the body, which, he declared, he stripped of all clothing. The second, he stated, was to burn the clothing, a precaution he said he had forgotten on the first trip, so eager was he to have the spot. The third, he added, was to make certain he had obliterated all signs of a grave among the ashes of the clothing.

When this additional data had been established, officials arranged to take Harvey to the eastern part of San Diego County, near the Lower California line, the latter part of this work so that he could locate the grave.

T. Hardy of Los Angeles reported to the sheriff's office today that "Bluebeard" Harvey resembles a man named Hester, who disappeared from Tucson, Neb., in 1916, after slaying his wife and daughter, whose bodies were found in a well. A description and a photograph of Harvey was mailed to Tucson.

PANAMANS DENOUNCE TAKING OF ISLAND

President Llorente today expressed profound regret at the incident, particularly because it marred General Llorente's visit and inspection trip over the republic.

Taboga has an area of sixteen square miles and a population of 2,000. It is Panama's poorest, least healthy resort and many wealthy Americans have bought the island.

Plans for the fortification of the island by American authorities call for the expenditure of $100,000. A battery on top of a hill, a thousand feet above the sea, commands the canal entrance on the Pacific side.

THE RHYME OF A WORKING GIRL

It's pay this and pay that,
Pay morning, noon and night;
And they wonder why we working girls
Don't keep up cheery and bright.

My sister Mary got married last week
And of course we had to get clothes.
So I started out with my pay
To get dressed from head to toes.

Before I say more let me state
I'm making fifteen a week.
And although I've looked in vain for more,
There isn't any out to see.

I had some fifty dollars saved,
And, together with my pay,
I started to town to get "dressed up"
For the eventful day.

I decided to get a satin dress—
Something dark and neat;
And black (rather, long vamp pumps
To wear afterward on the street.

Well, I looked and looked and looked again;
Dresses were plenty or more.
When I said I'd like to spend thirty-five
Why, they almost showed me the door.

The same with shoes, they were twelve and fifteen.
And eighteen for a classy pair.
Tired, I went to a waiting room
And sank, exhausted, into a chair.

I thought the wedding would be without me,
Or I'd have to wear my old dress.
When a woman beside me said, "Are'these things high?"
And I murmured, "Oh, goodness!"

"I'll tell you something good," she smiled,
"Where you can get dresses for twenty—"
"What?" I gaped, sitting up straight;
"Just tell me where, that's plenty!"

"Why, yet, my dear, in Filene's Basement
They have everything down there cheap."
Say, I almost kissed that woman—
I was so happy I could weep.

Well, the things were certainly inexpensive;
I wasn't tickled—Oh, no!
And the oddest part—the merchandise was splendid,
Which is better than most places show.

I got a satin dress for nineteen fifty,
A pair of pumps for pay too high.
And I'll always believe in its bargain sales
Till the very day I die.

Now I know where I'll go when I want something good
And don't want to pay too high.
And I'll always believe in its bargain sales
Till the very day I die.

So I'm sending this note to help,
Although it isn't necessary.
P. S.—The wedding came out great,
And I send regards from Mary.

Victories of Californian Encourage Him to Oppose Political Machine

By International News Service.
Washington, May 3.—A new road is every respect to that which depicted the Republican party in 1912 is expected in Chicago about June 1, according to opinion here, and the results of today's primary at Harvard. The primaries in Indiana and California tomorrow are expected to be a damper on ill-considered apathy. The clash today in Maryland was between Senator Hiram Johnson and Major-General Leonard Wood. There already was considerable controversy as the result of charges and counter-charges between these two champions of the success of Johnson in obtaining a recount of the New Jersey vote on a charge of fraud did not improve the situation.

PHILADELPHIA AND KANSAS.

Senator Boies Penrose, "big chief" of the old guard, has made it plain that he favors neither of the two. The other, preferring a "regular" like Senator Philander H. Clifton, who the general may take this decade from one of the party overtures, the stronger Clifton, however, his complete refusal to heed it. The stronger Clifton, however, his complete refusal to heed it. The stronger Clifton, however, his complete refusal to heed it.

RETS FAVOR JOHNSON.

While it is a case of Johnson versus Wood in Maryland, in California it is Johnson against Herbert Hoover. The latter, who has been a presidential nomination has gone into that State, which claims the State, but the latter favors the Senator.

Upon the result, California, perhaps, as in no other State, hangs very much on the result. If Hoover should be defeated by the Senator, his chances for the nomination, it is believed, would be well-nigh hopeless. On the other hand, if Johnson should win over Johnson, Johnson's race would be considered an already run, should his own State reject him in favor of a comparative newcomer, the old guard, who now fear his would be inclined to pass him up at Chicago with little more than a nod.

Maryland Political Machine Backs Wood

Baltimore, Md., May 3.—Early indication to the chances favoring General Wood carrying off the State and Republican delegation point, this forecast being based on the fact that the Republican organization forces are behind Herbert Hoover. Feed Rich 'Barley' Soup as Charity Lesson

New York, May 3.—A tin cup of thin barley soup and a chunk of small chunk, at the door of a charity school, containing barley, oats and possibly only partly a little flour.

That was the menu at a banquet last night at the Hotel Biltmore, which was attended by 1,000 persons, most of them from the city of New York.

The banquet was to which they were treated was the same ration, only a little larger and more plentiful. It was given out in serving sections of Europe to those who made headlines.

The banquet was given as an object lesson to aid in raising $100,000 for the relief of the famine in Europe.

R.H. White Co.

The Pre-eminence of White's Silk Values

For Values—For Large Assortment—For Variety of Weaves and Colors

White's leadership in silks has been recognized for more than 50 years. "White's for Silks" has become a household word in many families. The best judgment of the women of three generations has confirmed the belief in White's silk values.

At White's you may always find the last silk novelty, the silks which are hard to get elsewhere.

More than one silk manufacturer has come to think of White's first, even as our customers do. Because we have been such large distributors of silks for more than 50 years, the silk manufacturers often favor us with the choicest qualities, the earliest deliveries, the chance to secure the novelties which are limited in quantity.

When production cannot keep pace with demand, and allotments are made on the basis of former purchases, as at present, White's naturally gets the advantage because of large purchases in the past.

And all this makes for VALUES

33-in. Silk Natural Color Shantung and Pongee, Chinese and Japanese makes, all carefully selected novelties, will wash well, very desirable for waists, dresses, men's shirts.

THIS is the anniversary of the departure from Denmark, in 1721, of Hans Egede to Christianize the Northern heathen in Greenland. He found the cure had vanished, but he Christianized the natives and wrote a valuable work on the country itself.

When Hearts Are Trumps

A NEW SERIAL BY A FAMOUS AUTHOR
Interesting Romance With a Young and Beautiful Orphan as Heroine
By Virginia Terhune Van Dine

CHAPTER V
SOMEONE had said to Robert E. Hargrave that while it would never be a great value, it was seriously averted.

Had he had the time and honor to devote his life to the cultivation of his talent he might have become a professional success. As it was his voice had been heard in the world of letters, and he had made the best of his opportunities in the literary world.

Next morning he had not told his friends that he had been in New York, nor that he had written away many a lovely evening in practicing. Some of his friends had gone for theatres or dances and had been sported on a wealthy friend from a trustworthily instructor.

So tonight he sang as his friends, as never had heard him sing before. There was a tender quality in his tones that would have hearted at least one girl.

Barbara Peter stood by the open window looking out into the night. The moon was just rising and the stars were shining brightly. She was glad to see him sing, and she was glad to see him sing.

What Robert had said last night had rung in her ears all day. He seemed to be in his own world, and to make a perfect whole. This seemed to be in his own world, and to make a perfect whole.

As Under a Spell
She started from her reverie as Mary James came in and stood above the fireplace.

"Well, people, I would love to hear Robert sing for you. He is so good, but I have a family at home, and I will not hear what has become of me."

"Yes," Barbara seconded this speech. "We have a family at home, and I will not hear what has become of me."

"Thank you," Barbara tried to laugh, but her voice broke oddly. "I have had a lovely time, and I shall see you soon. Good-night."

A half dozen could not be gathered as far as the corner. Then, seeing their various ways, they left Robert Elliot and Barbara Peter alone.

occasion, at a soirée of the Royal Society, he declared he must have been in the habit of smoking a pipe twice as often as he did. He was a pipe smoker, and he was a pipe smoker.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—A substitute for calomel—has been prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all cases of constipation.

How Is Your Weight?
While it is true that too much weight is a disadvantage, it is also true that too little weight is a disadvantage. The key is to maintain a healthy weight.

CHAPTER IV—Continued

"A" And you have refused them all?
"Of course! What the good of them?"

"The dark eyes glittered questioningly upon their waiting, sleepy face."
"The good of them? Well, really, that is for you to decide! If you want a husband."

"I don't," she said, emphatically, with a delicate little stamp of her foot on the floor. "I don't want a husband."

"You don't like my telling you that?"
"No," she said, "I don't like your telling me that I don't want a husband."

The Surgeon's Penalties
In the ancient days of Mesopotamia the surgeon was discouraged about making rash operations. If the patient died, the surgeon's hands were cut off. If a veterinary surgeon was successful he received one-third of the value of the animal; but if the animal died he had to pay one-sixth of its value.

Bachelor Girl's Reflections

By HELEN ROWLAND
Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

THERE are limits to what a dumb animal will stand; but a woman can talk—and she will endure anything on earth so long as you will let her go on TALKING about it!

Of course, a man doesn't really want to break ANY woman's heart; but he can't help feeling sorry about the thought that he probably goes about thrilling them at every turn.

This is the time of year when a man stops bragging about his brute strength, and begins babbling about "brain" and "nerve." The wife eye catches him wondering toward the lawnmower and the curtain rods.

A man can truly give up a great love for the sake of conscience of duty—but it's awfully hard for him to relinquish a pigskin little flirtation that has just begun to be interesting.

The whole art of marital happiness consists in treating the person you love best in the world as considerately and politely as you would a casual acquaintance; but you never know how hard that is, until you have to share the same flat, the same breakfast table and the same dollar.

There are no limits to what a woman can do with a man—so long as he knows that she can do without him.

A woman's love is composed of material tenderness, childlike inconstancy, and a certain amount of self-interest—and how in the world can ANY man comprehend a mixture like that?

Any woman would gladly exchange a "nice interesting face" for a ravenous nose, a dimple or a mop of blonde hair, even though she knew it would undermine her strength of character.

Also: As long as a man remains a bachelor, he simply WILL persist in thinking of himself as a universal "temptation."

A Gallant Man
Charming widow: "Do you know, I'm forty years old today? Gallant bachelors: 'Madam, you are just twenty. I never believe more than half of what I hear!'"

This Laxative Is Now in Half a Million Homes
They regulate their health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

WHERE there are women and children, there is a need for a laxative. It is a fact that in every family there is a need for a laxative. It is a fact that in every family there is a need for a laxative.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN THE PERFECT LAXATIVE
In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the perfect laxative, it is not used by many people. It is not used by many people. It is not used by many people.

ANTI-FAT

HE WAS CALLED A LOAFER BUT HE WAS SICK

Thousands Are Sick, but Get No Sympathy or Help Because They Are Not Beggars.

A healthy man or woman simply cannot be fat. When you take energy and vitality out of your body, you are left with a weak, sickly, and unattractive body.

Wait no longer like a man. Don't be thankful to the maker of the Anti-Fat Tablets.
